Logo
Do Not's

To maintain a consistent and professional BiznorX identity, the logo should always be used in its approved form. Avoid stretching, compressing, rotating, or altering its proportions. Do not modify the approved colours, rearrange logo elements, or apply unnecessary effects such as shadows, outlines, or gradients.

The logo should never be placed on visually distracting backgrounds or combined with elements that affect its clarity. Following these principles ensures the BiznorX identity remains recognizable, consistent, and professional across every application.

Do not use shadows or effects

Do not create holding shapes

Do not modify proportions

Do not alter the colours

Do not rotate the logo

Do not use overlapping shapes

Colors

Color Palette

The BiznorX color palette is built around a bold combination of red and deep navy, creating a confident, modern, and professional visual identity. The two red tones form the brand's signature gradient and should be treated as core primary colors alongside navy. White and grey serve as supporting colors, providing balance, clarity, and flexibility across digital and print applications.

Small note for the guideline:

Don't classify the darker red as secondary just because it is used less often. Since it is an essential part of the logo gradient, keeping both reds under the primary palette makes the brand system more accurate.
